Granite is known to be used for art and architecture for centuries now. A host of magnificent monuments around the world stand as testimony of the beauty of granite stones.

Cappadocia is a super-exotic granite quarried from Brazil. It is both modern and trendy, making it an excellent choice for contemporary interiors. It is suitable for both residential and commercial properties and may be used in outdoor design projects.

When you buy a slab of granite, you bring a piece of history home. Granite stones are naturally beautiful because they are designed by none other than the nature itself.

Because no two natural stones slabs are alike, it grants exclusivity and uniqueness to every surface where it is adorned.
